

A CS1 issuer identifier (CS1-IID) is required for automatic vehicle or equipment identification in road transport and traffic telematics environment.

1 CS1-IID application

According to NBN EN ISO 14816:2006, an applicant for a CS1-IID shall meet the following criteria:

- The applicant shall be a single entity with a legal status
- The applicant shall use the CS1-IID for an agreed use within the intended scope
- The applicant shall pay any fees required by the National Registration Authority for Issuers (NRA/I)

Additionally following criteria apply:

- The CS1-IID shall only be issued by the NRA/I when there is expected to be an immediate use, or when the NRA/I considers that such requirement is imminent
- The NRA/I may request a national service code/unambiguous coding structure. The details that the NRA/I may request shall be the details of his local numbering sub structures within his service code/unambiguous number structure. (the unambiguous identification codes shall not be revealed)

To request a CS1-IID the attached APPLICATION FORM needs to be completed. A request for more than one CS1-IID is allowed and needs to be indicated on the application form in the field 'Requested # of CS1 Issuer Identifier'. Each CS1-IID is handled as belonging to a separate issuer. The completed form is to be sent to:
